Hearts

*"When I count my blessings,
I count you twice."*

This is how the Our Lady of Peace team feels about our residents. As we enter the season of thanksgiving, we think about the many wonderful people we serve each day. Here are just a few of those bright and joyful faces!

Ghouls Just Wanna Have Fun

Lots of residents—especially our ladies!—went all out this Halloween, dressing up in one-of-a-kind costumes.

Concert Under the Stars

A full moon and a bright array of stars were perfect for our front porch concert. Live music was performed by the Charlottesville-based band Zuzu's Hot 5 – an early jazz ensemble with the swing style of New Orleans. Halloween décor, headbands, and cupcakes added an extra splash of fun. As the evening temperatures dropped, residents and guests stayed warm with hot chocolate and apple cider. ensemble with the swing style of New Orleans. Barnyard Bash

Halloween at Our Lady of Peace brought out a true menagerie of costumes as many of our team members dressed up as farm animals. They even visited the Nursing and Christopher Centers, singing "Old MacDonald" and dancing in the middle of the group when the verse featuring their costume was sung. It was a hoot!

Artists in Residence

We never cease to be impressed by the talent of our residents! Our recent Resident Arts and Crafts Showcase highlighted their range of creativity. We were grateful to see a variety of beautiful entries, from painted canvases to hand-sewn pillows.

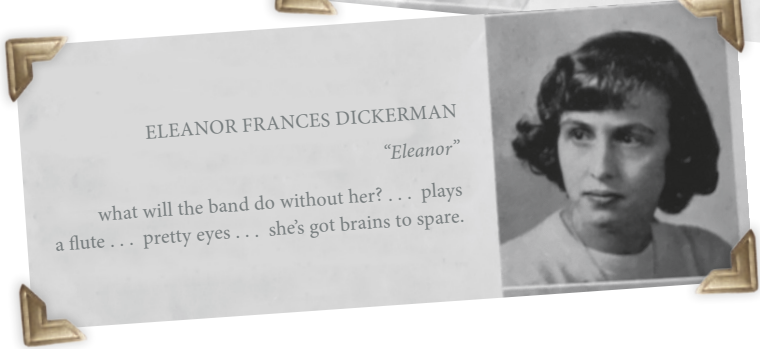

Warren Tucker with one of his paintings.

"Bronze Otters," a sculpture by Ronny Waters.

A beautiful work of work of art by Marjorie Radke.

A Charlottesville Connection

It sure is a small world! Residents Jenny Ryalls (formerly Virginia "Jenny" Roudabush) and Eleanor Dickerman quickly realized a decades-old link after Eleanor joined our community. Both ladies graduated from Charlottesville's Lane High School in 1952. Although the high school closed in 1974, the building—located just 10 minutes from Our Lady of Peace—still stands and now serves as the Albemarle County Office Building.
